

National Security Education Seminar for Auxiliary Medical Service (AMS)
(7 July 2025)

On 7 July 2025 (Monday), an important National Security Education Seminar was held in the school hall for members of the Auxiliary Medical Service Cadet Corps. The lecture covered key aspects of national security, including political security and information security. Through vivid case studies and interactive discussions, the speaker helped the cadets gain a deeper understanding of the close connection between national security and daily life.

During the event, the cadets actively engaged by asking questions, fostering a lively and enthusiastic atmosphere. The seminar not only enhanced their knowledge of national security but also strengthened their safety awareness and sense of responsibility, laying a solid foundation for their future contributions to society.

Group photo before the commencement of National Security Education Seminar

The members are fully engaged, listening intently to the speaker's sharing