

2024/25 Statistical Project Competition for Secondary School Students

(21 June 2025)

Two groups of students participated in the 2024/25 Statistical Project Competition for Secondary School Students organized by Hong Kong Statistical Society (HKSS). Both groups received a Certificate of Appreciation. This competition seeks to spark secondary school students' interest in research methods, statistics, and statistical techniques. It encourages students to understand their local community in a scientific and objective way through the proper use of statistics, while also fostering a sense of civic awareness.
